OptionScout

Long Call Calculator & Visualizer

The long call options strategy has a setup of buying 1 call option, further out of the money the option, will have more extrinsic value and typically a higher risk. The setup can be in the money or out the money. The breakeven is the strike price + the stock price. This strategy is riskier than just buying stock, but also leverage, thus may have a higher possible return. This is a very bullish strategy.
